New Horizons of Film Education is a nationwide program of monthly screenings. This project naturally combines the magic of cinema with valuable education. The carefully selected repertoire is precisely tailored to the developmental stage of participants, and each session is accompanied by an engaging lecture and professional materials to support teachers in their future work in the classroom. This is an excellent opportunity for students to gain ongoing contact with culture and build the habit of engaging with art. Regular visits to the cinema develop aesthetic sensitivity, teach a more attentive perception of images, and broaden horizons. Watching films together and discussing them afterwards also foster class integration. These sessions become a unique space for sharing emotions and discovering a rich world of values. The series' program is aligned with the core curriculum and recommended by the Ministry of National Education.

What do participants gain:

- regular contact with culture
- valuable repertoire adapted to age
